MSLE Strategies for Success

Tips and Tricks from an O-G Toolbox

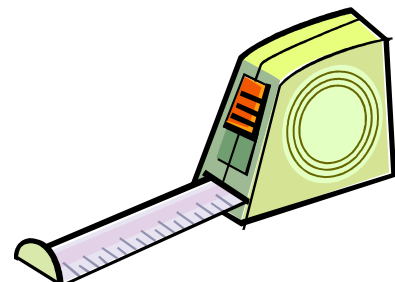

North Vancouver: Feb. 15 – 18th, 2010

Go for teaching gold this Olympic Break!

Have you ever wondered about the difference between a digraph and a diphthong? Have you struggled to explain to your students when and why c says /k/ or when it says /s/? Are you able to clearly convey when the vowel will be making its short sound and when it will be saying its name when there is not an 'e' involved? How do you know when to spell with a 'c' or a 'k' at the beginning of a word? Can you clearly teach your students the reasons for doubled consonants? Are you wanting to develop a spelling or writing program that will support all the learners in your classroom?

This interactive workshop is aimed at classroom and learning resource teachers and those wanting to learn more about students with learning disabilities, Multisensory Structured Language Education and some effective Orton-Gillingham strategies to enhance their classrooms. Visit our website to read feedback on this workshop and find out why past attendees say that this is "the most valuable workshop I've ever taken."

*Note: This workshop has been developed at the request of educators who are seeking to implement Orton-Gillingham or MSLE strategies into their classrooms but may not be able to take full OG certificate training. While taught by a fully accredited Orton-Gillingham trainer, this is not Orton-Gillingham certificate training and does not include a practicum nor a final exam. Since many OG strategies can be implemented at a “tier 1” level in classrooms for the benefit of all learners, this workshop has been developed without the clinical intervention or remedial lesson plans that are part of full Orton-Gillingham training.
